In the name of God the most Merciful, the most Compassionate Sharia Supervisory Board report for the year 2023 Al-Mashreq Al-Arabi Islamic bank

Praise be to the Lord of the Worlds, and prayers and peace be upon our Prophet Muhammad and his good and pure family

To the respected shareholders of Al-Mashreq Al-Arabi Islamic bank...

May God's peace, mercy, and blessings be upon you...

In accordance with the letter of appointment from the General Authority of the Bank appointing the Fatwa and Sharia Supervision Board of the Mashreq Arab Islamic Bank, we present the following report:

We have monitored the principles used and the contracts related to the transactions and applications proposed by the bank for the previous period. We have carried out the necessary monitoring to express an opinion on whether the bank has adhered to the provisions and principles of Islamic Sharia in its transactions and banking services. Our responsibility is limited to expressing an independent opinion on our monitoring of the operations, and in preparing a report for you. We conducted our monitoring which included examining the documentation and procedures followed by the bank on a test basis for each type of operation.

We have planned and implemented our monitoring in order to obtain all the information and explanations that we considered necessary to provide us with sufficient evidence to give reasonable assurance that the bank did not violate the provisions and principles of Islamic Sharia.

In our opinion:

The contracts, operations and transactions concluded by the bank during the year ending 2023, which we reviewed, were carried out in accordance with the provisions and principles of Islamic Sharia.

We ask God Almighty to grant us guidance ...

Peace, mercy and blessings of God.

1-Applying international accounting standards and the standards of the Accounting and Auditing Organization:

Al-mashreq Al-arabi Islamic Investment Bank has implemented international accounting standards for the fourth year in a row.

As for Islamic financing instruments, the relevant controls have been applied, guided by the standards of the Accounting and Auditing Organization for Islamic Institutions contained in the Central Bank of Iraq letter 9/3/289 dated 8/1/2018, as follows:

International Financial Reporting Standard No. (9) IFRS

The bank has applied Financial Reporting Standard No. (9) and the required allocations have been calculated to meet the changes occurring in expected credit losses (for Islamic financing and cash) guided by the directives of the Central Bank of Irag contained in its letter No. 3/6/466 dated 26/12/2018 (Guiding Instructions for Preparing Lists Finance for banks) as for the expected credit losses resulting from pledged credit, exposure to default (EAD) was calculated using credit transfer transactions (letters of guarantee of various types 50%) in light of the regulatory controls for the capital adequacy standard in accordance with Basel requirements (second off-balance sheet items). As stated in the book of the Central Bank of Iraq above (Determining the method for calculating expected credit losses - Paragraph 7) The bank adopted the Loss Given Default (LGD) ratio for the first stage at 45% and 100% for the second and third stages without taking into consideration the risk reducers (guarantees provided), as most customer guarantees were within the first stage it is an instrument, a bill of exchange, and a real estate mortgage, which means that the loss percentage under the assumption of default (LGD) must be 100% and not 45% as assumed in the methodology and applied in the calculation process. The results of the application were consistent with the requirements of Financial Reporting Standard No. (9), and the amounts required to be allocated to meet the requirements were reversed. Other information contained in the bank's annual report for the year 2023

The other information contained in the bank's annual report for the year 2023, other than the financial statements, is the responsibility of the Board of Directors, and we obtained the data contained in the annual report before the date of this report.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not include other information, and we make no assurance in this regard.

In connection with the audit of the consolidated financial statements, it is our responsibility to read the other information specified above when it becomes available, and in doing so, we take into account whether such other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or with our knowledge obtained through the audit process or appears to contain material misinformation. If we conclude

Based on the work we performed on other information that we obtained prior to the date of the audit report, it contains material misstatement of information, so we must disclose that fact. We did not notice anything that should be disclosed in this regard.

Board of Directors' responsibilities regarding the consolidated financial statements

The Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, and for the system of internal control that the Board of Directors deems necessary to prepare consolidated financial statements that are free of material misstatements, whether resulting from fraud or error. When preparing the consolidated financial statements, the Board of Directors is responsible for evaluating the bank's ability to operate as a going concern, and disclosing, where possible, matters related to the going concern principle, including the use of the continuity accounting principle when preparing the consolidated financial statements, unless it is the intention of the Board of Directors. Liquidating the bank, stopping its operations, or not having any other protective alternative but to do so.

Auditors' responsibilities regarding auditing the consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an audit report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high-level assurance, but it is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing will always detect material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements may occur as a result of fraud or error and are considered material, whether individually or together, could have an impact on the economic decisions taken by users of these consolidated financial statements. As part of the audit process in accordance with International Auditing Standards, we exercise professional diligence and maintain professional skepticism at all stages of the audit, and we also do the following:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risks of not discovering a material error resulting from fraud are greater than that resulting from an error, as fraud may include collusion, forgery, approved omission, misrepresentation or violation of the internal control system.
- We have understood the internal control system related to auditing in order to design appropriate audit procedures under the circumstances, not to express an opinion on the effectiveness of the bank's internal control system.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies followed and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors.
- Ensure the appropriateness of the Board of Directors' use of the continuity principle in accounting, and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether there is a fundamental uncertainty related to events or circumstances that may cast fundamental doubts about the bank's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that there is material form, we should indicate in the audit report the relevant disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or amend our opinion if such disclosures are insufficient. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence we obtained up to the date of the audit report. However, future events or circumstances may lead to the Bank not continuing as a going concern.

- Evaluating the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures therein and whether the consolidated financial statements represent transactions and events that achieve fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information about the company to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and completion of the audit of the bank and we alone are responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit Committee regarding, among other matters, the scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during the audit.

We also provide the Audit Committee with evidence of our commitment to ethical requirements related to independence, and we inform it of all relationships and other matters that affect our independence and what would preserve this independence.

From those matters communicated with the Audit Committee, we identify the matters that are most important in the audit of the consolidated financial statements for the current year and which represent the main audit matters. We provide clarification regarding these matters in the audit report unless laws or regulations prohibit disclosure of that matter, or in very rare cases in which that matter is not disclosed in our report as the expected negative effects of disclosure may outweigh the public benefit resulting from it.

2. Important accounting policies Principles of preparing financial statements

The bank's financial statements were prepared in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards and the interpretations issued by the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee emanating from the Sharia Islamic Accounting Standards Board and in accordance with the historical cost principle, with the exception of financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income and financial assets at fair value through the consolidated income statement, which It is stated at fair value at the date of the financial statements. The Iraqi dinar is the presentation currency of the financial statements, which represents the functional currency of the bank, and all amounts are presented in Iraqi dinars.

Basis for consolidation of consolidated financial statements

The consolidated financial statements include the bank's financial statements, as of December 31, 2023, the assets, liabilities, and results of the bank's business (general management and bank branches). There are two companies affiliated with the bank with a 100% ownership percentage, and their accounts have been consolidated with the bank's accounts. The bank's management continued to apply the accounting policies followed in preparing the financial statements in accordance with Islamic accounting standards, which were approved in application to the financial statements.

International Financial Reporting Standards, new interpretations and amendments issued but not yet effective

-International Accounting Standard No. (1) Presentation of Financial Statements - (Amendments)

These modifications include limited improvements focused on the following:

- Intrinsicity
- Classifications and grouping
- The structure of the explanations
- Disclosure of accounting policies
- Display items of other comprehensive income resulting from investments that follow the equity method, if any.

These amendments are not expected to affect the financial position or financial performance of the bank, and the bank does not expect these amendments to have a material impact on the bank's financial statement explanations.

- International Accounting Standard No. (16) Property and Equipment:

Long-term tangible assets contribute substantially to helping the bank carry out its main activities, especially those used in conducting business. Since assets provide benefits for more than one period, the cost of these assets is capitalized and their costs are distributed over the period of their useful life, which is called depreciation and the use of the straight-line method. The objectives of this standard and its application to financial statements:

- 1-The timing of their recognition and registration
- 2- Depreciation expense.
- 3- Addressing the decline in its value in the periods following ownership.

Important accounting policies:

The accounting policies followed in preparing these financial statements were based on Islamic accounting standards, with the exception of the application of new standards and changeseffective from 1/1/2023 according to the instructions of the Central Bank of Iraq.

- International Financial Reporting Standard No. (9) Financial Instruments:-

The International Accounting Standards Board issued amendments to financial instruments in International Financial Reporting Standard No. (9), in implementation of the instructions of the Central Bank of Iraq to apply the standard to financial statements as of 1/1/2022.

Islamic banks apply the standard with regard to the part related to expected credit loss, and otherwise they are committed to applying the requirements of Islamic Accounting Standard No. (25) Investment in Instruments and Shares and Islamic Accounting Standard No. (30) Impairment of Assets and Credit Losses, which replaced Islamic Accounting Standard No. (11) Provisions. And reserves.

A draft was issued to implement Standard No. (30) by the Accounting and Auditing Organization for Islamic Institutions (AAOIFI). This standard aims to clarify the accounting rules and principles for asset impairment and credit losses, including current and expected losses. This standard also presents the classification of financial assets and exposure to credit risks, and the standard also shows The most prominent international approaches followed in the field of impairment of financial assets in accordance with Sharia principles and provisions. Islamic Financial Accounting Standard No. (30) covers many of the topics found in International Standard No. (9) in terms of similarities and differences between them and the extent of their overlap in calculating and applying the expected credit loss approach. The most important features of applying International Standard No. (9) are the following:

- Early recognition of credit losses.
- Establishing a loss allowance for all credit risks.
- Potential fluctuations due to changes in 12-month economic conditions which need to be considered in forecasts of economic conditions Futurism.
- Compatibility and harmonization of financial reports with credit risk management systems.

A committee was formed consisting of directors of the following departments:

The Financial Department, the Islamic Finance Department, the Risk Management Department, the Internal Audit Department and the Information Technology Department, and under the supervision of the bank's Board of Directors for the purpose of ensuring and successfully implementing International Accounting Standard No. (9) Financial Instruments, where the committee developed a plan approved and certified by the Board of Directors for the purpose of implementing the standard. And develop a system for calculating expected credit loss. The bank has prepared a methodology for calculating expected credit losses for financial instruments according to the business model below:

42 www.amb.iq

- Financial assets at amortized cost:-

They are the financial assets that the bank's management, in accordance with its business model, aims to keep in order to collect contractual cash flows, which are represented by payments of principal and the return on the outstanding debt balance. These assets are recognized upon purchase at cost plus acquisition expenses, and bonuses are amortized using the effective return method, as a restriction on or to calculate the return. Any provisions resulting from a decrease in their value that leads to the inability to recover the asset or part of it are deducted, and any decrease in its value is recorded in income list. The amount of impairment of these assets represents the difference between the value recorded in the records and the present value of expected cash flows discounted at the original return rate. It is not permissible to reclassify any assets from this item except in the cases specified in the International Financial Reporting Standard. In the event that any of these assets are sold before their maturity date, the result of the sale will be recorded in the income statement in a separate item and this will be disclosed in accordance with the requirements of international accounting standards.

- The fundamental increase in the transition between the three stages: -

The stages of calculating the customer's expected credit losses go through several stages, based on studying the creditworthiness and determining the significant increase in risk to move between the stages of the planned business model and according to the following stages:

- The first stage: expected credit losses over a period of 12 months. A portion of the expected credit losses over a lifetime related to events that are likely to occur in payment default during the next 12 months (expected cash flows) is recognized according to a time period of no less than 30 days.
- The second stage: Expected credit losses over a lifetime are non-impaired. Credit losses over a lifetime are proven to be non-credit impairable based on a time period of no less than 89 days.
- The third stage: Expected credit losses over a lifetime are impaired. Expected credit losses are recorded over a lifetime, and returns are suspended and proven on the basis of cash receipts, as they are evaluated as credit-impaired, which has a harmful effect on the future cash flows of those financial assets according to the time periods from 90-180 / 181-359 / 360 and above.

Financial liabilities:-

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation associated with the liability is released, canceled or expires. When a financial obligation is replaced by another from the same financing entity and according to fundamentally different terms, or in the event of a fundamental modification to the terms of an existing obligation, this exchange or modification is treated as an exclusion of the original obligation and the realization of a new obligation.

The bank applied the calculation of the required allocations in light of the application of Financial Reporting Standard No. 9 contained in the letter of the Central Bank of Iraq 9/6/466 on 26/12/2018, and the result of the calculation was as follows

| The provision required to be calculated for Islamic financing (Murabaha) | The required allo- cation for pledged credit / dinars | The required alloca- tion for balances with financial institutions / dinar | Total / dinar |
|--|---|---|---------------|
| 2,747,020,574 | 1,503,404,523 | 431,025,279 | 4,681,450,376 |

The quantitative impact of applying the above-mentioned standard was calculated as follows:

| statment | Islamic cash financ- ing (Murabaha) / dinar | Pledged credit / dinar | Balances with finan- cial institutions / dinar |
|--|---|------------------------|--|
| The allocation to be calculated on 12/31/2023 | 2,747,020,574 | 1,503,404,523 | 431,025,279 |

As will be mentioned in Notes No. (7) and (14) attached to the financial statements.

- International Accounting Standard No. 27 (Consolidated Financial Statements and Investment in Subsidiaries):

Investment and financing activities are considered the backbone of Islamic banks, as they contribute to achieving the economic development of the country and in accordance with the provisions and principles of Islamic Sharia. One of the prerequisites for the success of investment activity is the presence of an integrated plan that helps in monitoring and evaluating performance and making rational investment decisions in accordance with a set of standards, indicators and strategic policies. Based on the bank's orientation to use its financial resources in a way that ensures achieving returns with low risks and contributing to the revitalization of the country's economic sector, it is moving toward establishing strategic investment projects that achieve a set of goals at the same time, and then contributing to the capital of the two companies, Nakheel Al-Mashreq Trading Company and the Mashreq Gate Consulting Company. This contribution is considered an investment. long term, This contribution is subject to International Standard No. (27) Investment in subsidiaries by owning more than 50% of the shares and is accounted for using the ownership method. This method is based on recording investments at cost upon purchase.

- International Accounting Standard No. 38 (Intangible Assets):

Intangible assets represent one of the important resources of the bank, as these assets are considered the main source. These assets are characterized by the fact that they do not have a tangible physical presence. They are non-financial assets (non-monetary) whose useful life is considered more than one period. It can be defined as an identifiable non-monetary asset that does not have a physical presence and is controlled by the bank as a result of past events such as internal development or as a result of the acquisition and use of an asset that will bring future economic benefits such as the modern electronic systems used as well as the costs of pre-operation training and the programs used to operate these systems, which can be defined as The basis for measuring these assets, and these assets are treated accounting through amortization. Our bank has used this standard by covering establishment expenses and pre-operating expenses as intangible assets, which are amortized by recognizing the expense and allocating an allowance for intangible assets.

Use estimates

Preparing consolidated financial statements and applying accounting policies requires bank management to make estimates and judgments that affect the amounts of financial assets and liabilities and the disclosure of potential liabilities. These estimates and judgments also affect revenues, expenses and allocations, as well as other comprehensive income items. In particular, the bank's management issues important judgments and judgments to estimate the amounts and timing of future cash flows. The aforementioned estimates are based on multiple assumptions and factors, which have varying degrees of estimation and uncertainty, and the actual results may differ from the estimates as a result of changes resulting from the conditions and circumstances of those estimates in the future.

The bank's management believes that its estimates in the consolidated financial statements are reasonable and detailed as follows:

- Taxes due. The fiscal year is charged with its appropriate taxes in accordance with local regulations and laws applied by the financial authority and accounting standards.
- Management periodically re-estimates the useful lives of property and equipment for the purposes of calculating annual depreciations and amortizations based on the general condition of those assets and estimates of the expected useful lives in the future. An impairment loss (if any) will be recorded in the consolidated income statement according to the instructions of the sectoral authority.
- The management periodically reviews the financial assets, if any, in the future, which are shown at cost, to estimate any decline in their value, and the decline is taken into account in the consolidated income statement for the year.

Future policy of direct credit facilities

- Credit facilities are shown net after deducting the provision for cash credit risks and the provision for doubtful debts. As for the outstanding returns and commissions, they are reserved in a special provision for those who have stopped paying.
- A provision for cash credit risks is established if it becomes clear that the amounts due to the bank cannot be collected and when there is objective evidence that an event has negatively affected the future cash flows of direct credit facilities and when this decrease can be estimated, and the amount of the decrease is recorded as an expense in the consolidated income statement.
- Returns and commissions on non-productive credit facilities granted to customers are suspended in accordance with the instructions of the Central Bank of Iraq.
- The credit facilities allocated to them are written off in the event that the measures taken to collect them are ineffective by deducting them from the allocation in accordance with the Companies Law, and any surplus in the allocation is transferred to another type of allocation according to the Central Bank's latest instructions.
- The amount of the expected credit loss allowance (cash pledge) is returned when obligations are paid by some customers to a miscellaneous allocations account, according to the instructions of the Central Bank of Iraq.

Cash and its equivalent

It is cash and cash balances that depend on the maturity scale according to the letter of the Central Bank of Iraq No. 9/6/48 dated 4/2/2022 and includes: cash, balances with the Central Bank, balances with banks and governmental, local and foreign banking institutions.

The accounting policy used for property, buildings and equipment

Property and equipment are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation. The cost of property and equipment includes the cost incurred to replace any components of the property and equipment and financing expenses for long-term construction projects if the recognition conditions are met. All other expenses are recognized in the consolidated income statement when incurred. Depreciation is calculated (with the exception of land, as land does not disappear, but its cost is completely reduced in the event of natural disasters) using the straight-line method according to the expected useful life as follows:

| Asset | Useful life / (years) |
|-------------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Buildings | 30-50 |
| Equipment, appliances and furniture | 5 |
| Means of transport | 5 |
| Electronic systems | 5 |

Any item of property and equipment and any significant parts thereof are not written off except upon disposal or when there is no expected economic benefit from using or disposing of the asset. Any profit or loss resulting from the write-off of the asset is recorded, which represents the difference between the proceeds from disposal and the net book value. For the asset, in the consolidated income statement. The remaining values of the assets, useful lives and methods of depreciation are reviewed in each fiscal year and amended later if necessary.

foreign currency

- Transactions that take place in foreign currencies during the year are recorded at the prevailing exchange rates as on the date of the transactions, except for the exchange rate determined by the Central Bank of Iraq and resulting from the currency sale window.
- Balances of financial assets and financial liabilities are converted at intermediate foreign currency rates as of the date of the financial statements, as issued by the Central Bank of Iraq, which the bank adhered to when preparing the financial statements.
- Non-financial assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies and shown at fair value are translated on the date their fair value is determined.
- Gains and losses resulting from foreign currency translations during the year are recorded in the income statement.
- Translation differences for non-monetary items of assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies (such as stocks) are recorded as part of the change in fair value, if any.
- Currency exchange differences during the year on equity are recorded in the income statement,

Allocations

Provisions are recognized when the bank has obligations at the date of the statement of financial position arising from past events, and the settlement of the obligations is probable and their value can be measured reliably.

Income tax

Taxes represent the amounts of taxes due, and taxes due are calculated on the basis of taxable profits. Taxable profits differ from profits declared in the financial statements because declared profits include non-taxable revenues or non-deductible expenses according to the instructions of the financial authority.

Income tax is calculated according to the tax rates prescribed under the laws, regulations and instructions in force in Iraq, amounting to 15% for corporate income tax, as shown in Note No. 18.

Clearing

Offsetting is carried out between financial assets and financial liabilities and the net amount is shown in the statement of financial position only when the binding legal conditions are met, and also when they are paid on the basis of offsetting or when the assets are realized and the liabilities are paid at the same time.

Financial guarantees

The bank provides financial guarantees in the ordinary course of business. Financial guarantees consist of documentary credits, letters of guarantee and acceptance papers. Financial guarantees are included in the financial statements at fair value among other liabilities. Subsequent to the listing date, financial guarantees are measured at the initial fair value, less, Any credit amounts that may result from financial guarantees are included in the income statement under "financing losses." Any creditable financial guarantees are included in the income statement under "net fees and commissions" when the guarantees are disposed of, canceled, or expire.

Report (Audit Committee) Al-Mashreq Al-Arabi Islamic bank For the fiscal year ending 31/12/2023

Dear members of the General Authority of the Al-Mashreq Al-Arabi Islamic bank... Greeting...

Based on the provisions of Banking Law No. (94) of 2004 and the approval of the General Assembly in its meeting held on 11/17/2023 to elect and form an audit committee from the gentlemen whose names are listed below:

- 1- Alaa Samawi Kazem / Chairman
- 2- Rashad Khudair Wahid / Member
- 3- Muhammad Ali Hussein / member

The committee held its periodic meetings and issued quarterly reports on its meetings, which included the bank's various activities, its final statements and accounts, and the reports attached to them as of 12/31/2023. The committee's tasks also include monitoring the safety and integrity of the bank's financial statements, developing and implementing a contracting policy with auditors, and ensuring the independence and review of systems. Financial Sharia control and oversight and risk management, in addition to reviewing, implementing and supervising the Sharia internal control systems and policy to ensure the proper performance of its work, as well as supervising the Anti-Money Laundering and Terrorism Financing Office, which is linked to the Council and is responsible for implementing special operations policies and the tasks and duties resulting from that, including preparing periodic reports on its activity.

We would like to highlight the most prominent work carried out by the committee during the year 2023:

- 1- Review the financial department reports and ensure that the standard ratios are within the limits of acceptable ratios.
- 2- The results of the comprehensive examination were reviewed to evaluate the bank within Camel standards.
- 3- A meeting was held with the bank's auditors to discuss the results of the activity and the most important elements of the bank's revenues, especially in light of the Central Bank's instructions regarding revenues generated as a result of changing the exchange rate and the disposal of these revenues, as well as ensuring that the cash credit examination is calculated in light of Standard No. (9).
- 4- Review the measures taken by the bank regarding the localization of salaries to reach the best ways to serve customers and provide the best Islamic services in accordance with technological progress in the field of providing Islamic banking services, such as ATMs and issuing electronic cards, as well as providing advances to customers for the purpose of purchasing a housing unit.

- 5- The committee reviewed the credit schedule up to 31/12/2023, and the committee confirmed that there were no credit violations up to the aforementioned date, and the committee recommended monitoring that, as well as monitoring the due credits and following up on their collection.
- 6- The committee reviewed the revenues and expenditures for the fiscal year ending on 12/31/2023, and we show the following:
- A. The revenues generated by the bank as of 31/12/2023 amounted to (24,102,766,000) dinars, and upon reviewing the details of these revenues, we note the following:
- B. Total expenses before tax amounted to (9,152,975,000) dinars as of 31/12/2023, and the most prominent expenses were employee salaries, which amounted to (1,653,343,000) dinars, and administrative expenses amounting to (2,984,785,000) dinars.
- C. The bank achieved a profit of (12,254,690,000) dinars, and this requires the bank to develop a policy for distributing profits.
- 7- The balance of cash and balances at the Central Bank amounted to (165,607,437,000) billion dinars as of 31/12/2023, which requires the administration to work to use an important part of this amount in the field of Islamic financing and investments in stocks, companies and partnerships with the aim of achieving profits for the bank and increasing the return on capital. the money.

Please accept our deepest thanks and appreciation....

Alaa Samawi Kazem Chairman of the Audit Committee
